

HEAVY FIGHTING IN BELGIUM AND FRANCE ONLY BRITISH FRONT

IS FIRST EXTENSIVE ENGAGEMENT IN THIS SECTOR FOR MANY WEEKS—ENGLISH GAIN MILE OF FRONT AND THEN LOSE IT.

SAY WILL TAKE LEMBERG SOON

This Declaration is Made by Germans, Allowing a Fortnight for Accomplishment—Latest Zeppelin Raid in England Causes Little Excitement.—More Aeroplanes for British.

London, June 16.—For the first time in weeks there has been heavy fighting over a comparatively extensive line of the British front in Belgium and France. The Berlin communication makes note of it and describes it as an Anglo-French movement synchronizing with the Russian reverses in Galicia.

To win a mile of front and then to lose it before terrific German counter attacks was the experience of the British Tuesday night. Festubert, in a statement, frank, if brief, Field Marshal French records this incident, but does not state the losses which must have been heavy on both sides.

The Germans are as frank in conceding the loss of ground near Ypres, but they make no mention of having been forced, even to temporarily yield a mile of their Festubert stronghold.

In the east the Austro-German advance continues to pressing forward with the exception of the section between the Diester marshes and Surawna, where the Russians' holding of the bridge heads are making some headway.

General von Mackensen, according to dispatches, has given himself a fortnight in which to capture Lemberg, and it would seem that at the rate his co-ordinate forces are going forward this time limit will be ample.

The latest Zeppelin raid on England has created hardly a ripple of excitement.

The under secretary of war, H. J. Tennant, besides giving assurances that bigger aeroplanes were under construction, said that since the beginning of the war the number of machines had increased ten-fold and the number of men engaged in the branch five-fold.

British Steamer Sunk.
London, June 16.—The British steamer Starhain was torpedoed today off the Scilly Islands and sank. Twenty-two members of the crew, including the captain, were drowned. The crew was composed of nine Englishmen and twenty-four Chinamen and of these only one Englishman and ten of the Chinese were saved. These were landed at Milfordhaven.

The torpedo struck the steamer amidships and blew up one of her boilers. Four of the ship's boats were hastily launched, but two of them capsized, while another was smashed against the steamer's side. The other boat with the eleven survivors in it was picked up later and the men taken to Milfordhaven.

The survivors said that after the Starhain was torpedoed the periscope of a submarine was seen nearby, but that the underwater boat made no attempt to rescue the drowning men. The Starhain, which was a cargo of 1356 tons, was bound from Cardiff for Leningrad, Russia, with a cargo of coal.

Sons of Veterans' Appointments.
Little Rock, Ark., June 16.—W. J. Brandon, commander-in-chief of the Sons of Confederate Veterans, today announced the following appointments:

Adjutant-in-chief, N. B. Forrest, Memphis; staff inspector-in-chief, A. J. Allen, Little Rock; quartermaster, Edwin A. Taylor, Memphis; commissary, Ben. Watts, Cave Springs, Ga.; judge advocate, M. E. Dunaway, Little Rock; surgeon, J. Garnett King, Fredericksburg, Va.; chaplain, the Rev. J. C. Hill, Danville, Va.; historian, Dr. Thomas Owen, Montgomery, Ala.

Division commander appointed for Texas, Howard W. Peak, Fort Worth.

SUMMARY OF WAR

At two points on their line—north of Hooze, which lies east of Ypres in Belgium, and at Festubert in France—the British troops have suddenly resumed an active offensive. A line of German trenches at Festubert was occupied but soon lost through the violence of the German counter-attack. But in the engagement in Belgium the British were successful in capturing more than half a mile of trenches, including the whole of the first line and parts of the second line and these they are holding.

The German war office admits the capture of positions by the British near Ypres, but asserts that in the fighting around Festubert the British sustained heavy losses in men and left several machine guns and bomb throwers behind after their assaults, in which hand-to-hand fighting occurred, were repelled.

The French are gaining ground in the region of Arras and in the Vosges on both banks of the Fecht river, where several hundred prisoners, together with a large quantity of rifles and cartridges were taken.

Rheims has again been heavily bombarded and the French report that about a dozen shells fell on the famous cathedral. German aeroplanes have dropped bombs on Nancy, St. Die and Reims.

The capture of 122,300 Russians and a great number of guns from June 1 to June 15 is reported by the Austrian war office, while Berlin reports gives the German general von Mackensen credit for the capture of 40,000 since June 12. Whether the latter are included in the Austrian official estimates is not made clear.

CAUSELESS WAR, BY J. BRYAN

DECLARES UNITED STATES IS TO LEAD NATIONS TO PEACE.

Issues First of His Statements on Topic—Will Change Laws.

Washington, June 16.—William Jennings Bryan, former secretary of state, in the first section of his statement on "The Causeless War," today prophesied that the greatest peace making opportunity in all history was certain to come to the United States. He declared that, with the return of peace, there would be a demand for an international conference to change the rules of international law which "seem to have been made for the nations at war rather than for the nations at peace."

"Under the stress of a titanic struggle," Mr. Bryan's statement says, "each side has felt itself justified in encroaching upon the rights of neutrals. The ocean highways, the common property of all, have been to some extent appropriated for war purposes and delicate diplomatic questions are forced on the neutral nations."

"Just at this time, when these questions are most acute, the belligerent governments are least able to deal with them with the calmness and poise their great importance demands. No wonder every neutral nation is increasingly anxious for the war to end; but of all the neutral nations, ours has the most reason to pray for the return of peace—most reason to set its face resolutely against participation in this war. This nation, the head of the neutral group and the sincere friend of all the belligerents, is in duty bound to set an example in patience and self-restraint."

"In all history no such opportunity has come to any other nation as that destined to come to the United States. In all history no other peace-maker has ever been in position to claim as much a blessing as that which will be pronounced upon our president when the time for mediation comes—as come it must."

Introducing his statement, Mr. Bryan describes the horrors and afflictions of the war and says: "Neutral nations cannot look on with indifference—the ties that bind them are too strong, the relationship too intimate. This is especially true of the United States. We have a composite population—every nation of Europe having contributed liberally to our citizenship. These, our countrymen, themselves born abroad or immediately descended from foreign-born ancestors, cannot but take a lively interest in the conduct as well as in the progress of the war. A still larger circle shares the concern of these directly connected. Not a soldier falls on either side but the sorrow expressed in his home finds an echo at some foreign home."

Aside from sentimental considerations, Mr. Bryan asserts, neutral nations suffer serious disturbance because of the war.

"Nearly every neutral nation finds new domestic problems thrust upon it and old problems made more difficult," he declares. "No American citizen can escape the war's concern in the manner in which war questions have intruded themselves into our politics—overshadowing economic issues and stimulating agitation in favor of the northeast coast on both sides."

At some length Mr. Bryan refers to interruptions to neutral commerce, devaluations of business, and consequent readjustments, and speaks of the scarcity of American ships as one of the greatest embarrassments to the United States.

"The neutral nations are put to a great expense to preserve neutrality and are constantly in danger of being embroiled in the war without intention or fault on their part," he declares.

"The rules of international law seem to have been made for the nations at war rather than for the nations at peace. It is almost impossible to alter these rules without the consent of any material change affecting as it would the interests of the belligerents would be a seeming violation of neutrality."

As soon as peace reigns there will be a demand for a conference on the subject. If nations are determined to fight they should as far as possible make their own laws, and not be permitted to transfer it to the nations which avoid war by resorting to reason instead of force."

Lassen Peak Again Erupts Smoke.
Redding, Cal., June 16.—The first eruption for the one hundred and first time at 1 o'clock today, belching from the mountain a column of smoke reported to reach a mile skyward. Today's eruption was the first since May 21.

TAFT TELLS OF THE HOPES OF PROPOSED LEAGUE OF PEACE

STEPS WILL BE TAKEN TODAY TO GET THE SUPPORT OF PUBLIC OPINION WHEN MEETING IS HELD AT INDEPENDENCE HALL, PHILADELPHIA.

NOT PEACE AT ANY PRICE

Tells of the Two Classes of Issues Between Nations: Justiciable and Non-Justiciable—Proposal is to Have an Impartial Court to Submit Questions To.

Philadelphia, June 16.—Former President Taft, in an address here tonight outlined the plan for the proposed League of Peace, which will be discussed in Independence hall tomorrow when proposals will be considered and steps taken with a view to obtaining the support of public opinion and of governments. The national provisional committee gave a dinner tonight at which Mr. Taft was assigned the part of delivering the keynote speech.

Others who spoke included President Lowell of Harvard, Oscar S. Straus, member of The Hague court, and former Judge George Gray of Delaware, also a member of The Hague court. In calling this meeting, Mr. Taft said, "my associates and I have been unaware that we might be likened to the tailors of Tooley street, who mistook themselves for the people of England. We first wish to say that we do not represent anybody but ourselves."

"We are not here to suggest amendments or plans for bringing this war to an end. We hope and pray for peace. We think a league of peace could be formed which would enable nations to avoid war by furnishing a practical means of settling international quarrels or disputes."

"In no war has the direct interest of neutrals been so forced upon them as in this. This interest of neutrals has been so forced upon them that it would require only a slight development and growth of the league of peace to enable nations to develop that interest into a right of arbitration of the strike. The home bound thousands were transported from the business district as was usual before the strike. The reappearance of the cars was enthusiastically cheered."

In working out the arbitration agreement it was agreed that as to wages there should be no arbitration downward, and that "trippers" men who work only during the rush hours of traffic, would be eliminated. Every point of difference between the men and the employers is to be decided by the arbitrators.

Not Peace at Any Price.
"We are not peace at any price men, because we do not think we have reached the time when a plan based on the complete abolition of war is practicable."

"The resort to which to force an unwilling belligerent of the league consists of two tribunals, one of which every issue must be submitted."

Issues between nations are of two classes, justiciable and non-justiciable. First, issues that can be decided upon principles of law called justiciable. Second, issues that cannot be decided on such principles of law and which might be quite as irritating and provokable as war, called non-justiciable.

The question of the Alaskan boundary, of the Bering sea seal fishing and of the Alaskan claims were justiciable issues that could be settled by a court exactly as the supreme court would settle claims between states. The questions whether the Japanese could be naturalized, whether all American citizens should be admitted to Russia and merchants without regard to religious faith are capable of causing great irritation against the nation but they are not justiciable. The real essence of the trouble can not be aided by a resort to a court.

"The trouble is non-justiciable. We propose that for justiciable questions, we shall have an impartial court. If the court finds the question justiciable it shall decide it. If it does not it shall refer it to a commission of conciliation to recommend a compromise."

The League of Peace will furnish a great opportunity for more definite promotion of the principles of international law.

"We cannot give up treaties because sometimes they are broken, any more than we can give up commercial contracts because men sometimes dishonor themselves in breaking them. When we add to this the sanction of an agreement by a number of powerful nations to enforce the obligation of the recalcitrant and faithless member, we think we have a treaty that is much more than a 'scrap of paper' and we base our faith in this on a common sense view of human nature."

Mr. Holt said the best way to bring about the disarmament of the nations was to form a League of Peace, based on the principle of American form of government.

"The world is already ripe for the idea," Mr. Holt added. "In England where the movement is receiving much consideration, one of the greatest close to the British government that it would almost seem as though Sir Edward Grey were behind it."

Mr. Strauss said that while righteousness exalted a nation, history and the present war gave uncontrovertible proof that righteousness will not protect a nation unless other nations are likewise exalted.

"The president in his recent note to Germany," Mr. Strauss added, "while firmly upholding the law of nations, the rights of humanity and the duty of the American people, instead of closing the door of peace, has with masterly wisdom and skill lifted the latch on the door of mediation for the combatant nations."

Garrison May Be Named to Succeed Bryan

LINDLEY M. GARRISON

Immediately that it was definite that President Wilson had accepted the resignation of William Jennings Bryan as secretary of state, gossip got busy with Bryan's possible successor. One of the most talked of was Lindley M. Garrison, the secretary of The Hague court, and former president has the greatest admiration for his secretary of war.

Whether living in their own house, or refugees whose houses in the fighting zone have been demolished by shells, the French people in the rear of the British front have not had many afternoons either. The women, who are the crippled, and every child who could hold a hoe, have taken the places of the able-bodied men away at war.

With the crops all in and the wheat ripening, which came that strange, picturesque morning from somewhere beyond the Arabian Nights' country, known as the British Indian troops, who had been refrigerating through a winter of winter in French barns and outbuildings, were going to give an exhibition of horsemanship.

Everybody was invited and there was no admission fee. It was like a New England village with a chance to see a heroic king and if he really was as tall as the people said, the scene was a small plateau hard-pressed by the hoofs of platoon drill, the one space in northern France, which the industry of those too weak to fight had not made green with cultivation.

Fighting in the Distance.
Across the sweep of fields and groves which hid the trenches, the batteries, along the British front, was an almost unbroken silence, but farther north, a section of the horizon shimmered like a gigantic, muffled snare drum.

These French guns—hundreds of French guns—were busy tearing away at the German works known as the "Siegfried" line. There men were being killed or wounded every minute, and those living near the front thought nothing of that. They are used to it, as is anybody living in the neighborhood of Niagara Falls to their roar.

Joy was in the Indians' hearts. The joy of a warming sunshine to children of the sun fairly out of a winter ice-box at last. The joy was shown in the dark eyes, the gleaming of white teeth and it gleamed on the forest of their lances. They were free of swaths, the clothing which the king-impersonator had supplied to keep them out of the Plaines d'Inde. Some had oiled their muscles under their bronze skins. Broadway and Kansas in dog days would not be too hot for them. They could be something like India and home.

Said two more months—July and August—which were warmer still, were coming.

Those who had survived the trench warfare were going to show how well they had kept themselves through the winter. They were going to show how well they had kept their horses amid the mud and slush. As with the Cowboys, praise their horses and you praise the man.

Indian Officers in Crowd.
Groups of Indian officers in the watching crowd rubbed elbows with the French officers. The French officers, in turn, were greeted by the Indian officers. The Indian officers were in the Indian spirit rather than in the French spirit. They were the leaders of the Indian soldiers. They were the leaders of the Indian soldiers. They were the leaders of the Indian soldiers.

When it came to demonstrativeness, the French were only pick up a peg. The time of their lives. It beat the movie in town and there was nothing to pay either. They liked the way the Indians yelled. That made them seem like real, sure-enough Indians. A British cavalryman would only pick up a peg. We would not yell. As four riders, looking as wild as any theatrical manager would desire, cantering down the field abreast, their white teeth gleaming as they uttered their screaming challenges, picked up four of those bits of wood at the same instant and waved their lance aloft, a token of their success. To the king, one old Frenchman said: "I wish it had been four Germans they had speared in a charge."

It was a great day for the hard-worked French peasantry when they could see both the king of the Belgians and an appeal for commutation of his death sentence. The governor took the case under advisement and announced he would render his decision as soon as possible. This, however, is not expected before Friday or Saturday at the earliest.

Frank is under sentence to be hanged June 22 for the murder of Mary Phagan.

Today's session was occupied by Wm. M. Howard, attorney for Frank, in his closing argument. Mr. Howard was interrupted frequently by questions from the governor and by Solicitor Dorsey, who took issue with statements as to what had been brought out in the trial.

Mr. Howard attacked the testimony of state witnesses and sought to convince the governor of alleged inconsistencies and contradictions in the testimony and affidavits of Jim Conley, a negro who served a prison term as an accessory when the murder of "Take the name of Leo of Frank out of the case," he said, "forget all that has passed in the last two years. Give me a public mind that is a clean slate and put this case in any county in Georgia and I will acquit this defendant in thirty minutes."

Mr. Howard declared that by the testimony of the state's own witnesses, the record showed Mary Phagan was not in the pencil factory at the time the prosecution contended Frank killed her. He also declared that Frank told the jury that he had not fired the shot that killed her. He said he had disposed of the body, and that he had been in the factory at the time the shooting occurred.

With a last appeal for clemency, the attorney concluded and the case was submitted finally to the governor.

HARD WORKED KING TAKES OFF AND SEES AN INDIAN GYMKHANA

BIT OF REST AND PLEASURE JUST OUT OF HEARING OF THE TERRIBLE GUNS TEARING AWAY THE GERMAN TRENCHES LIKE STEAM SHOVELS.

CROPS IN; WHEAT RIPENING

On Only Piece of Land Which Has Not Been Made Green and Fruitful by Labor of Aged and Those Too Young to Fight, the Entertainment Takes Place.

British Headquarters in France, June 16.—King Albert of the Belgians, who has not had many afternoons off during the last eleven months, took one off to see a show—a gymkhana. He has stuck as close to his job in what remains of his kingdom as has many a desk-ridden business man who cannot be induced to go to the mountains or to the seashore.

Whether living in their own house, or refugees whose houses in the fighting zone have been demolished by shells, the French people in the rear of the British front have not had many afternoons either. # GERARD PLEASED WITH FEELING IN GERMANY

AMBASSADOR AT BERLIN CABLES FIRST REPORT ON HOW NOTE WAS RECEIVED.

Sends Long Extracts From Editorials Which Are All Friendly Toward United States.

Washington, June 16.—Ambassador Gerard cabled today his first informal report on how the last American note to Germany was received in official quarters in Berlin. He spoke of its reception as friendly and courteous and said the unanimous public opinion was that the document afforded a basis for diplomatic negotiation and settlement.

Long extracts from German newspaper editorials, most of which have already been published here, were transmitted by the cable. There is a friendliness of tone in them and an absence of the bitterness which has previously characterized some of the newspaper utterances.

The ambassador's own comment was brief and of a general character, bearing out press reports of the favorable impression made by the note, especially because published reports had reached Germany that the United States would send something in the nature of an ultimatum. Mr. Gerard had no information as to when a reply would be received or what its specific character would be.

Officials here have been much encouraged by the manner in which the German press and officials have regarded the American communication and believe the way toward an understanding now is much clearer. The arrival of Dr. Anton Meyer-Gierhard, German minister to the United States, will help toward clarifying the situation and producing an amicable adjustment of the controversy.

Rabbi Declares an Innocent Man Was Executed at Sing Sing
Albany, N. Y., June 16.—Rabbi Goldstein, a chaplain to Sing Sing and the Tombs, New York City, asserted before the city committee today that one of the four New York gunmen executed for the murder of Herman Rosenthal went to his death an innocent man and that the district attorney's office has admitted as much in a communication to Governor Whitman. Mr. Goldstein would not name the gunman, but he is believed to have been referred to "Dago Frank" Crofick.

The rabbi was among a number of speakers who appeared before the committee to urge a constitutional amendment abolishing the death penalty.

"From my own experience," he said, "and from what I have learned, I know that scores of innocent men have died on the gallows and in the chair."

$82,000,000 Expected From Income Taxes
Washington, June 16.—First estimates of returns from the personal income tax have been revised upward by the department officials, who now expect more than $82,000,000 during the present calendar year from this source.

Estimated that the government will receive $82,000,000 from the income tax during the present calendar year from this source.

Under the law, payments of the income tax may be made as late as June 15, but from the way in which the tax is pouring in officials are confident that a large proportion of the total will be in the vaults before the close of the present fiscal year, June 30.

It is now apparent, officials said today, that there would be sufficient large part of the debt which appeared early in the year and which steadily increased until a short time ago. This fact is counted upon to stimulate the national treasury to replenish the treasury's working balance.

Carranza Admits Fall of Saltillo.
Laredo, June 16.—Carranza officials in Nuevo Laredo tonight admitted that Saltillo had fallen into the hands of Villa troops under Generals San Roman and Raoul Madero.

A letter received here today dated Monterey June 14 brings information that Carranza's forces had been surrounded three days by Villa forces. It was reported in Nuevo Laredo tonight that Carranza's army had evacuated Monterey today and were retreating toward Villahermosa.

The Monterey letter said Carranza officials had levied against merchants there for 500,000 pesos, Carranza money, and for 100,000 pesos gold against three banks to pay troops.

Zeppelin Air Raid Claims Many Victims
London, June 16.—The following official statement regarding the Zeppelin air raid was issued tonight:

"Further inquiries show that the casualties in consequence of the visit of a Zeppelin to the northeast coast Tuesday night amounted to 14 killed and 40 injured."

"It now is possible to state more exactly the casualties resulting from the raid on another portion of the northeast coast on the night of June 14. The number of deaths there are twenty-four, comprising five civilians, thirteen women and six children. There also were forty cases of more or less serious injury."

"The principal fires were in drapery establishments, a lumber yard and a terrace of small houses."

Fate of Leo M. Frank is in Hands of the Governor
Atlanta, Ga., June 16.—The fate of Leo M. Frank was placed finally in the hands of Governor Slaton today at the close of the hearing on an appeal for commutation of his death sentence. The governor took the case under advisement and announced he would render his decision as soon as possible. This, however, is not expected before Friday or Saturday at the earliest.

Frank is under sentence to be hanged June 22 for the murder of Mary Phagan.

CARRANZA REJECTS VILLA'S PROPOSALS OF AN ARMISTICE

REFUSES TO MEET OTHER FACTIONS HALF WAY IN SETTLING TROUBLES IN MEXICO—PLAN TO MAINTAIN MILITARY STATUS QUO AND HOLD ELECTIONS.

DEMANDS SURRENDER CAPITAL

This is His Reply to Overtures—Villa-Zapata Followers Claim These Efforts Demonstrate Their Willingness to Meet Suggestions of President Wilson.

Washington, June 16.—General Carranza has declined for the present at least to accept overtures for peace in Mexico by the Villa-Zapata faction. Three such offers have gone unanswered.

The latest, it became known today, was transmitted through the medium of the United States without comment. A few days ago the convention assembled in Mexico City over which Francisco Lagos Chazaro presided formally presented to the Brazilian minister as the representative of the American government for transmission to General Carranza through diplomatic channels, a proposal for a thirty-day armistice, during which arrangements could be made for establishing a provisional government.

It was suggested that both sides should maintain a military status quo and that the armistice be extended from time to time while the parleys continued. The plan included the holding of a popular election to be supervised by the factions in control of various sections of the country. The proposal was communicated to General Carranza by American Consul Silliman. On inquiry as to whether Carranza commander, near the capital, Carranza is understood merely to have said there would be none.

The communication from the convention government signed by Chazaro was similar to the one sent by General Carranza several weeks ago, signed by Roque Gonzales Garza, then president of the convention government. That, too, was unanswered.

Personal Message from Villa.
Since last Monday, Carranza has had a personal telegram from General Villa stating a conference of their representatives for a discussion of the proposal for a thirty-day armistice. It is known here, too, that a delegation from the convention at Mexico City met General Pablo Gonzalez, the Carranza commander, near the capital and asked for the arrangement of an armistice and that he demanded in reply the unconditional surrender of the city.

The Villa-Zapata followers claim these efforts demonstrate their willingness to meet the suggestion in President Wilson's recent statement that the factions in Mexico settle their differences by peaceful means.

General Carranza's intention for the present is understood to be to press his military campaign vigorously in the hope that on taking Mexico City and ending the Villa forces northward, he will be in a position to meet the recognition of the United States.

Whether the Washington government will accord recognition to any one of the factions as now aligned there, another conference is in the field is not known, the policy of President Wilson for the future having not been outlined at any time since his recent statement.

IS SORRY DID NOT KNOW THE REMEDY

Twenty Years Ago Is the Statement Made by
Mrs. M. Wilson

There is a modern remedy for stomach trouble that is magical in its effect and that is Plant Juice, the new herbal system tonic. It rectifies the wrong system the body by getting to the root of the trouble. It feeds to the nerve tendril vigor and vitality and they in turn feed the different functional organs this same strength. It does its work quietly and thoroughly and makes a permanent cure.

Hundreds have testified to this truth. One of the latest signed statements received from local people is from Mrs. Margaret Wilson, who lives at No. 552 Allison street, Pittsburg, who said:

"I had suffered intensely for the past nine years from chronic indigestion, flatulency, irregular and distressing pains in my stomach. My vision had become impaired, being afflicted with vertigo, which made it impossible for me to enjoy life. I have lived in the Brushton district for many years and wish to tell all my friends who have suffered that I have found a cure in the use of Plant Juice for my ailments. I was very skeptical at first, but after using this medicine I am practically cured; feel better than I have for years and enjoy my food for the first time in a long time. My only regret is that I did not know of this medicine twenty years ago."

Plant Juice is sold in Waco at W. B. Morrison's Old Corner Drug Store, where it is being introduced and its merits explained.

THE recipe here given for cooking eggs is a very delicious one and makes a splendid luncheon dish.

Eggs, French Style.

Grease a pan or chafing dish with two tablespoonfuls of butter. When hot stir in a few slices of onion. Cook until brown. Mix in a tablespoonful of flour and stir. Sweeten with a small cupful of cream or milk and season with a little finely chopped parsley, pepper and salt. Add six hard boiled eggs and cut in quarters. When hot serve.

Bisque of Lima Beans.

Chop fine two cupfuls of cold boiled lima beans. Put in a chafing dish with a cupful of cream. Season with salt and pepper. Stir until well mixed. Serve hot.

Baked Turnips.

Pare turnips and cut in halves. Place in a baking dish and pour over enough milk to cover. Flavor with butter, pepper and salt and bake until tender. Serve with a sauce made by heating a tablespoonful of butter. When melted add a teaspoonful of dry mustard. Stir until smooth.

Bismarcks.

Make a good yeast dough without using any sugar. Roll out the dough and cut with a form or tumbler. Fill one slice with marmalade or jelly and cover with a second slice the same size as the first. Fry in a deep fat until the dough is yellow in color. Put on a dish and sweeten with powdered sugar.

Coffee Sorbet.

Mix six cupfuls of boiled coffee with half the amount of sugar. Stir well and flavor with a small amount of vanilla. Put in a pail and freeze.

It has been known in advance that a miscellaneous shower of gifts was expected. These, handed to hostesses, were collected and delivered by miniature expressman in the wagon at the fitting moment. In the meantime two contests, both relating to the event to be, were introduced to the event. One was the articles while in a bride's trousseau "pled," while the other was a sketch in designs, by pencil, both linen fancies, went to prizes.

HUMANE SOCIETY LAUNCHES
GRAND TAG DAY FOR CITY
Rather quietly details have been developing for a grand Tag Day under the patronage of the Humane society. Since this movement is one of the kind to come into this city, it was considered feasible to let the good work be known in every home, no matter how humble. Nothing but a Tag Day will accomplish this. The city has been distracted from bountifully responded to, and good women have responded to the call.

It is remarkable that with hundreds enlisted so few have declined to serve. Does not this say much for the humane sentiment here? On Saturday morning, bright and early, women and girls will be out, every house, so far as possible, will receive the Band of Mercy call. It is the hope that every home will respond with a membership in the Humane society or at least a coin with which to further this appealing work.

The starved horse, the lame horse, the horse with the festering sore back; dogs, wretched and ill fed; cats left to starve in deserted homes, all these are the immediate work of the Humane society. Surely the coin will be given as relief. Also, the Humane society does a higher work of mercy, that of attention to the cruelly treated child. The movement is founded upon the beautiful, "Blessed are the merciful." If we regard our Christian precept, we are committed to observe all. The Humane society even higher than the dumb brute, does a work of character building. The indication of the humane principles means the boy who refrains from the brutal stab or pistol blow; he is the more sympathetic son and husband. Who can turn the Band of Mercy from the door on Saturday?

HIGH NOON WEDDING
AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH
Unimpressional indeed was the guest who did not feel the appeal of tender sentiment as the group formed about the altar for the marriage of Miss Celia Moore and Donald Hodges. There stood this winsome little woman whose every relation in life had been met dutifully, and there she was to assume that highest of all relations, maker of the new home and companion in sorrow and in joy to the man whom she plighted her troth. About this same altar this young woman had fulfilled a Christian mission, especially amid the hundreds of little Sunday school pupils. In the home she had been a beloved, devoted daughter, a beloved friend. In the service which meant so much to those who loved her, stood nearest. The brothers, Luke Moore, junior, Oscar Moore, Thomas Moore and Julian Moore, were ushers, with the cousin, Bart Moore, junior, a substitute when Oscar Moore assumed attendance upon the groom. The eldest brother, Charles E. Moore, gave his sister into the life keeping of the new young husband. The only single sister, Miss Mildred Moore, was the only attendant of the bride. Before the pastor, who had none knew better the worthiness of the young woman who had worshipped all her life in his congregation, what she would mean as wife, the holy vows were made. This means, Dr. E. N. Calvin, pastor of the Central Christian church, conducted the service. The ante-nuptial song was given very sympathetically by Miss Stella Lacy, accompanied by Mrs. Bert Perry. The altar was fresh as the springtime itself by a pretty provision of daisies amid foliage both tall and spreading. Baskets with their daisies showing, as well as clusters were used with an effect much complimented. The attendant to the bride was gowned in fresh white summer fabric. She wore a summer hat and carried daisies. The bride was ready for her going away in coat suit of light spring tone and warp, rather a blue, with the snugg, becoming little toque changing into a spring-like gown.

Following the service a large party accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Hodges to the station. They are already arrived in Galveston for a short sojourn and then it is a going into the own home in Houston. Mr. Hodges' family having lived in South Texas for several generations makes this arrival of a young bride the event of note and of cordial reception. Into the new home goes an array of handsome gifts from friends and relatives of both groom and bride; indeed, the appropriateness of selection as well as the sincere benediction that hers may be as happy a future life as it has been a past with family and friends here residing. Mrs. Donald Hodges to a star.

Society Notes
Have you joined the cut weed crusade? Put the small boy to work this very morning.

The Misses Jennings are extending invitations for a pupils' recital on Friday evening.

Mention is made of a picturesque evening garden party in private home later in this month.

Really, the pergola is not one bit pretty without the grace and the cool effect of vine. Plant a few.

BUFFS OUTPLAY THE NAVS AND WIN 7-3

CRISS EFFECTIVE WITH HIS CLUB AHEAD, WHILE WACO PITCHERS WOBBLE.

HOUSTON MAKES 4 IN NINTH

Five Knocks and an Error Ends All Hopes of Victory for the Home Club.

At last it happened. By patiently waiting, the Buffs hung up a won game on the Navigators' own lot. While they were doing it, they made the job complete and put across a 7 to 3 score.

Waco's scoring machine wasn't completely out of running order, as indicated by the three runs made off the mighty Criss, but it was sort of hobbling along on three cylinders. The probability is that the engine was overheated, and the easy day will see it again smothering speed records. The defensive carpenter also was feeling slowly and the carport magneto wasn't handing out any too glorified a spark—but a careful inspection could find no real trouble.

A review of the day leads to the belief that Houston's day to win had simply rolled around and there was no denying it. Without any delay and playing dead—far be it from such—the Navigators were forced to accept the ultimatum and the Buffs took the contest.

Wasn't Bad Game.

It wasn't a bad sort of an affair. Criss had the control, speed and several other possessions that have ranked him ever with the best in the league, while Ogle was hit rather frequently, and Hill, who relieved him, still more frequently.

There was none of the dash and go to the Houston victory which local fans are accustomed to seeing the Navigators put across, and they were therefore loath to accept the defeat, even after two were down for Waco in the ninth, and they had reason to keep up hope at that.

Had Cliff Hill been able to hold the pesky critters in the ninth, Waco might have been different. But he allowed five hits and an error of his own resulted in four runs—the four that won.

However, the Buffs were ahead all the time, and when Ogle left the game in the seventh, it was safe to say that the Buffs had little indication of solving Criss and getting back the contest.

Houston Starts Scoring.

Houston scored in the fourth. McDonald hit and Seitz sacrificed. Newman hit. Summers, having already gotten the Buff habit, squeezed, and McDonald scored. In the fifth, Criss pitched a perfect game, and Wobben, Davis tried to sacrifice, rolling to Wobben, who would have forced Criss, but Tanner and Frisner flied out to James. Criss scoring on the sacrifice fly.

In Houston's seventh with two out, Davis hit one to second, which Tanner flied to handle and which Criss hit. Mowry walked. Frisner hit to right field, scoring Davis.

Waco made one in the seventh. With one out, Conway rapped against McDonald's shins for his third hit. Walters singled to left center. Grubb batted for Ogle and was safe. Criss hit and batted the grounder. Tanner forced Grubb, but Conway scored on the out. Criss forced Tanner.

With Hill pitched in the eighth, the Buffs went out one two three, but in the ninth put four across. Criss, Davis and Seitz singled—all scratches. Mowry hit and scored Summers. Frisner, batting right handed, hit between Conway and Seitz, scoring Criss. McDonald popped up. Seitz sent an easy one to Hill for the squeeze, the pitcher fumbled and gave it up. Hill held on until while Mowry followed Davis across the plate for a double squeeze.

In Waco's ninth a near rally netted two runs. Conway walked. Walters flied out to Mowry. Hill walked. Tanner flied out to Mowry. Criss hit. Mowry walked. Frisner scoring Conway and sending Hill to third. Crislow sent one to Summers for what should have been an easy second, but the shortstop fumbled it and all were safe. Hill scored. James ended the excitement by popping up to Criss.

The Score.

Waco—Tanner, ss, 5; Oyle, cf, 4; Crislow, if, 3; James, rf, 2; Malmquist, 2b, 4; Wobben, 1b, 3; Conway, 3b, 2; Walters, c, 3; Hill, p, 1. Houston—Davis, rf, 5; Mowry, if, 4; Frisner, cf, 3; McDonald, 3b, 5; Seitz, 2b, 3; Newman, 1b, 2; Summers, ss, 3; Clark, c, 4; Criss, p, 2.

Sporting Comment

Another chance at the Buffs—then, bring on the Pirates.

Down Galveston was the prayer is constantly heard—"somebody stop those Navigators."

Houston today, Galveston Friday, Saturday and Sunday—then twenty-three days on the road.

What has Sid Smith done to those Gassers? But,shaw, it didn't do any good—Waco lost, too.

Now that Cap Leidy is pitching his catchers, look out for something to happen in the way of a wholesale cleaning up of the Broncho club.

The announcement of the release of Kid Nance as manager of the Fort Worth club was not a surprise when the hard luck into which the Panther management has run recently is considered. The management has been paying over guarantees to the visiting clubs there, and hardly any games have been played since the floods. Following the grandstand, and now it continues to rain. Jakey Atz will manage the club.

Broncs Wallop the Dallas Giants 8-0

Dallas, June 16.—The Broncs came to life today and evened up with the Giants for previous defeats by beating Dallas 8 to 0. Goulait was wild and hit freely. Munsell was invincible. The locals got only one man as far as an action, and a recruit pitcher, made his debut in a Dallas uniform. The score:

C. Perkins, New Orleans, 1 up in 18 holes, and England by A. C. Ulmer of Jacksonville 1 up in 20 holes. Thirty-two matches were completed in the morning and the same number in the afternoon. Survivors of Birmingham round played a second 18 holes later in the day to determine the first and second flights. Members of the third and fourth flights were matched in a similar manner by the defeated 34 of the first round. Tomorrow 18 holes of the match play will be completed of all flights.

ALEXANDER'S DEATH MYSTERY TO FRIENDS

TRUE STORY OF HOW MERIDIAN
MAN DIED WILL PROBABLY NEVER BE KNOWN.

BODY BURIED AT GREENWOOD

No Reason Can Be Figured Out for How Cattleman Came to Be Floating Down the Brazos.

How did B. B. Alexander, cattleman and farmer of Meridian, whose body was found Tuesday noon floating down the Brazos river, meet his death?

This is the question that his friends were asking each other yesterday. Nobody answered, and the chances are that the true answer will never be known. The body was in such an awful condition, apparently having been in the water for several days, that it was found necessary to bury it here. The funeral was simple yet pathetic. The funeral was held at the establishment of L. C. Puckett the body was taken to Greenwood cemetery and silently laid away, a number of his friends being present from his home.

So far as can be learned, there was no reason why Alexander should have attempted to take his own life. His finances were in good condition, he was in good health, and was in good spirits when last seen.

He came to Waco last Friday in an automobile with a party of friends. Their intention to come was arrived at on the spur of the moment, and Alexander was wearing his boots and spurs when he entered the car. When the party left the auto one of the spurs was left and it was partly through this fact that he was identified so easily, for when the body was recovered there was still the spur attached to the boot, a silent witness.

Did the dead man wander out onto the bridge and fall off into the swirling waters below? Was it an accident, or was he the victim of foul play? If the latter, his assailant picked a bad subject, for Alexander had only a few dollars with him, if any money at all. There was no money in his pockets when the body was recovered.

It was impossible to tell from the body whether there had been any foul play or not. The body is buried. But Alexander's friends are still wondering, and probably always will, as to how he met his death.

City Starts Cutting Weeds on Streets

An extra force of men in the sanitary and street departments with two mowing machines started yesterday cutting weeds from the streets and alleys of the city. Owing to the bad condition of the parks, the city prisoners have been kept busy for several weeks cleaning them up. As soon as this work is completed, the prisoners will be put on the streets cutting weeds and removing rubbish.

Public Health Commissioner W. H. Cockerill stated yesterday that his department is notifying property owners to cut weeds from their premises, leaving as an alternative that the city will cut the weeds and make a proper charge for the work.

By the use of mowing machines, a great amount of territory can be covered by a small force. Men go ahead of the machines, removing rubbish, wire and tin cans, clearing the way for the mowers. Commissioner Cockerill asks for the co-operation of every citizen and property owner to rid the city of weeds.

Class of 1916 Active in Baylor "Home Coming"

In the hope of bringing a big crowd to Baylor next fall for the Home Coming that will be held to commemorate the seventieth anniversary of that institution, an effort will be made by the committee in charge to organize all the graduates according to classes, and induce all alumni and ex-students as well as to get into personal touch with all their friends who have ever attended the university at any time and urge their attendance. The Home Coming will include Wednesday and Thursday of Thanksgiving week, in all probability.

The first active efforts in this direction have been put forth by the class of 1915, which will graduate next year and the following correspondence between Harry V. Nigro, president of that class, and Prof. W. H. Pool, chairman of the Home Coming committee of the Alumni association, is self-explanatory:

"Belton, Tex., June 12.
"Prof. W. H. Pool, Chairman Baylor Home Coming Committee, Waco, Tex.:
Dear Sir—I wish to offer you my assistance in working for the Baylor Home Coming. The class of 1916 has authorized me to write you, and if I can in any way assist you, please let me know. If you need any extra letter writing, I have several members who will be glad to help.

"Remember the class of 1916 will be at your service, and we desire work to help in the preparation of a great Home Coming.

"Respectfully,
"HARRY V. NIGRO, '16."

"Mr. Harry V. Nigro, Belton, Tex.:
My Dear Sir—Your favor of 12th inst. is before me. Permit me to thank you for the generous aid promised by your class and the 1916 class in making our Baylor Home Coming next November a glorious success.

THREE DOZEN BOOKS FOR SOLDIER BOYS

MOODY CITIZEN SENDS SIX VOL-UMES FOR MEN GUARDING
TEXAS BORDER.

Contributors in City Swell Number
Received to Almost a Hundred.

Yesterday was an exceptionally good day for the cause of the soldier boys. Three dozen very choice volumes, having come into this office for that purpose. W. H. Kiemenschnider, of Moody, prominent harness and saddle man, sent in a half dozen volumes by prepaid express, while over two dozen volumes came in from persons in the city. If there are other readers of the Morning News living outside of Waco who would like to imitate the example of Mr. Kiemenschnider we will be glad to hear from them. The volumes must be sent prepaid, as there is no fund here with which to pay the charges and the whole movement is a gratuitous one. Due to the co-operation of the railroads with the United States government, a franking privilege will be issued for the books as soon as the collection has been completed.

Among the contributors living in the city who helped to swell the list of books yesterday were O. M. Weather, 6 volumes; Llewellyn Aubrey, 4 volumes; Mrs. J. M. Witt, 5 volumes; Mrs. W. W. Seley, 7 volumes; and L. T. Tatum, 3 volumes. The volumes of humor were noted in two stories, one of history, one of travel, and the remainder of a very desirable class of fiction. The volumes collected to date number nearly 100 and there is not a duplicate among them, so far.

There is an opportunity here for a number of the citizens of this city and section to enable the soldier boys stationed at the army posts in the south-west to find a useful employment of their spare time and to spend their leisure in a more useful way than loitering around saloons and frontier dance halls and other questionable resorts.

Books of fiction, travel, history, stories, humor and general information will prove very acceptable. It is not needful that the books be purchased for this occasion. All that is asked for is that you send books that you have read over once and for which you do not care any more. You probably will not read them again, whereas, by sending them to an army post they may be read by a twenty-five, fifty or even a hundred men.

While the campaign in Waco will close June 30, the Morning News will be glad to have you send your offering to this office. It is probably the only example will inspire some one else to make a contribution. The soldier boys are entitled to this consideration and we are confident they will fully appreciate every volume that is sent them.

Orders have been received from Washington requiring all of the eight local mail carriers to count and weigh all mail handled by them for a period of eight days, commencing July 1, with results to be reported to Washington.

Boy Scouts Learn How to Pitch Camp

Reports from the Boy Scouts' camp on the Posque last night were that an excellent opportunity had been afforded by the recent rains for the instructors to teach the boys how to pitch camp and to keep tents dry under adverse weather conditions. High water caused a suspension of swimming for several days this week, but the report last night was that the boys had fallen back to normal and the boys are allowed to go into the water again.

Charles Parker, instructor of the band, has been at the camp for two days. The boys are practicing popular airs, in preparation for the concert which they will play at the meeting of the scout council in the Y. M. B. L. rooms next week.

The second of a series of games between the two baseball teams in the camp, the Giants and the Athletics, was played yesterday morning, resulting in a 7 score in favor of the Athletics. The Athletics also won the first game.

A large quantity of ice cream and cake was sent out of the camp yesterday afternoon by Sanger Bros., and was greatly enjoyed by the boys. Scout Commissioner Nat Hays has been conducting Bible lectures each night in camp, which have been interesting to the boys.

The scouts have discovered an old Indian camp for making arrow and spear heads a short distance from the camp. Near a place where a large vein of flint crops out of the ground, the boys found a large number of perfect specimens of arrow and spear heads.

Plans are developing to establish a permanent camp next summer, and boys by the week would be made, and boys could go out and stay as long as they liked. The camp would be maintained the whole summer.

"Much work will be needed to get this celebration properly before the great throng of students who have been going forth from Baylor halls for the last seventy years.

"Great assistance may be rendered by you and your class if each member will write a stirring letter to his or her most intimate friends requesting them to meet you with their friends at the Baylor Home Coming in November. Thanksgiving Day will likely close the celebration and it should perhaps include at least two days and nights in all. If all classes and groups will get in touch with each other by spirited personal letters or through spicy articles, in regard to our Home Coming, contributed to the different papers of the state, in a short time great enthusiasm would be aroused among Baylor's friends and we would have the largest assembly of old students next Thanksgiving that Texas has ever known.

"If something in the nature of the foregoing suggestion meets your approval, ask your class to unite with you in an effort to give the widest possible publicity at once to our Home Coming in November, 1915, which will celebrate the seventieth anniversary of the founding of Baylor University. The mere contemplation of the joyous meeting of the thousands who will gather at old Baylor to sing the college songs, shout the old yells, rehearse the victories and renew the friendships of college days, makes the heart thrill with pleasure. Let all the boys and girls get to work now for a glorious Baylor Home Coming.

"Again thanking you for your kind offer, I am,
"Very respectfully,
"W. H. POOL,
"Chairman Baylor Home Coming Committee."

"Mr. Harry V. Nigro, Belton, Tex.:
My Dear Sir—Your favor of 12th inst. is before me. Permit me to thank you for the generous aid promised by your class and the 1916 class in making our Baylor Home Coming next November a glorious success.

"Remember the class of 1916 will be at your service, and we desire work to help in the preparation of a great Home Coming.

Santa Fe Puts on Extra Sleepers to San Francisco

Beginning on June 21, the Santa Fe will run extra through sleepers on Monday, Wednesday and Saturday for the convenience of the excursionists going to the expositions and the Pacific coast. These sleepers supplement the regular cars and will be run from Galveston, Houston, through Temple on to Los Angeles and San Francisco. The feature of the cars will be that they will stop twelve hours at Grand Canyon, arriving there at 7 in the morning and leaving over there until 7:40 in the evening to allow the tourists and sightseers opportunity of visiting the Grand Canyon without changing cars, thus allowing travelers to take the through sleepers at Temple and keeping the same berth all the way to San Francisco and San Diego.

The cars stop at Los Angeles and go from there to San Diego, returning to San Francisco. The regular through sleepers will be run every day as in the past and the new cars will be an addition without any change to the regular trains.

Miss Rose Friedlander was off yesterday to points in Colorado and California.

C. D. Winsett, wife and mother left for Tucson, Ariz., for the summer. His mother will probably make that her future home.

Mrs. B. W. Glasgow leaves today for Salt Lake City for the summer months.

W. McMurray and wife and Mrs. McMurray's mother, Mrs. A. E. Franklin, left yesterday for Colorado, the Grand Canyon and the expositions in California. They expect to be gone about six weeks.

Increase Carriers' Salaries.
Temple, June 16.—Rural letter carriers at the Temple postoffice will, after July 1, this year, receive their salaries at $12 per annum instead of being paid on the basis of number of pieces of mail delivered and collected, as heretofore has been the case.

Orders have been received from Washington requiring all of the eight local mail carriers to count and weigh all mail handled by them for a period of eight days, commencing July 1, with results to be reported to Washington.

Thin Men and Women
Here's a Safe Easy Way to Gain 10 to 30 lbs. of Solid, Healthy, Permanent Flesh.

Thin, nervous, undeveloped men and women everywhere are heard to say, "I can't understand why I do not get fat. I eat plenty of good, nourishing food. The reason is just this: You cannot get fat, no matter how much you eat, unless your digestive organs assimilate the fat-making elements of your food instead of passing them out through the body as waste."

What is assimilated is a means of gently urging the necessities of functions of the stomach and intestines to absorb the oils and fats and hand them over to the blood, where they may reach the starved, shrunken, run-down tissues and build them up. The thin person's body is like a dry sponge—eager and hungry for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. The best way to overcome this sinful waste of flesh building elements and to stop the leakage of fats is to use Sargol, the recently discovered, rejuvenating force that is recommended so highly by physicians here and abroad. Take a little Sargol tablet with every meal, for the fatty materials of which it is being deprived by the failure of the alimentary canal to take them from the food. ## HIPPODROME.

"The Property Man." Charlie Chaplin appears at the Hippodrome today and tomorrow in a revival of "The Property Man," two-reel Keystone comedy, probably the funniest Keystone ever produced while he was the bright particular star with that company.

Chaplin breaks into the story of "The Property Man" at the jump. In fact, he is the story. He is also master of the stage, the stars, the stage hands and even the audience are in his power. The unruly ones are kicked vociferously. Occasionally Chaplin is the recipient of a well-placed shoe. He falls and gets up or is laboriously picked up. Sober or unsobber, he is Chaplin, king of funny men. Trouble follows in his wake. If at any moment there seems any insufficiency of disturbance, he takes a fresh strangle hold on everything and everybody and starts something new. That he survives the strenuous experiences is remarkable; that his assistant, an elderly gentleman of ninety summers, who is forced to carry the heavy baggage and lift the heavy drop curtain which screens the stage from the audience in "The Property Man," and who is at all times the goat, comes through the ordeal with his life is nothing but short of a miracle.

The two constitute a rare team of fun-makers, the sort of combination that not only tempts but compels an audience to indulge in execrable laughter.

Through it all Chaplin's serious face is never crossed by a smile. With perfect confidence this wonderful comedian leaves laughter for others as well he may.

"The Patriot and the Spy." James Cruze, as the patriot in "The Patriot and the Spy," new four-part Mutual Masterpicture with Marguerite Snow, showing at the Hippodrome today with "The Property Man," has proven his worth as an actor in past performances, which is barely equaled and not surpassed by the artful interpretation of either William S. Hart or Henry Walthall. He seems to have concentrated all his dramatic power in his interpretation of the heroic patriot in scenes full of thrilling action. This is a war picture without the customary blood and thunder that usually makes such films commonplace. Cruze gained an enviable following as the fascinating hero of two great photoplay serials, "The Million Dollar Mystery" and "The Twenty Million Dollar Mystery." It is his first appearance in Mutual Masterpictures. The inspiration which led to the scenario of "The Patriot and the Spy" is said to have been borne of the horrors of the present European war and was directly suggested by the song entitled "I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Soldier." "The Patriot and the Spy" shows that wonderful sacrifice of a mother when she sends her son to battle. It shows the gloom cast by breaking hearts and the unparalleled sacrifice of women who can do nothing but sit at home and wait, and wait and wait.

The picture endeavors to illustrate the human side of war, and one critic who has seen the film says that it makes the very soul shiver to realize even through the medium of a drama the misery that would result in this country in the event of war, and it is a vivid lesson of the other side of the struggle between two countries, the side of wrecked homes and lives spoiled, away from the trumpet and bugle call and volley.

REX TODAY.

"The Redemption of the Jansons." A play written to show that old bachelors can be made happy, featuring the charming actress, Miss Neva Gerber, who came recently to the Beauty company, has been greatly disturbed by the California rats and mice, which, with other vermin, too small and numerous to mention, make life uncomfortable in that land of sunshine. She now offers a "hint to housewives" which may prove acceptable to other newcomers in and about Santa Barbara. "Anybody," she says, "may rid her house of rodents by a very simple process. Capture one of the pestiferous things alive, incase its feet in rubber (a common elastic band will do), tie a small piece of white cloth around its neck, and set it loose. The beast will make all haste to rejoin its companions. With noiseless tread, dashing in among them, it will produce such a panic among its superstitious kind that never again will any of the creatures venture to invade the domain of human beings." To the gift of clever mimicry Miss Gerber, it may be noted, adds a particularly lively imagination.

"The Six Cent Loaf." In one of the simplest and most fundamentally appealing roles she has had to play this year, Florence La Badie exercises all her undeniable fascination as the little factory girl, Mary Quinn, in "The Six Cent Loaf," a two-reel Thanhouser release in the Mutual program. She is ably supported in this drama of poverty and courage in the face of misfortune and impending starvation, Leland Benham, seven and Helen Badgley, the Thanhouser Kidlet, appear as Miss La Badie's brother and sister for whose sakes the difficult struggle is made. Ethel Cooke and Harris Gordon are also in the cast.

QUEEN.

"The Arab." Friday and Saturday. Edgar Selwyn, the distinguished Broadway star, makes his first screen appearance under Lasky management in a picturization of his own famous Broadway hit, "The Arab." He starred in this drama with much success in its original form, and in the photoplay he is even more fascinating in the character of Jamil, the gallant desert chieftain.

"The Arab," which is the most spectacular of all Lasky productions, tells how a young Sheikh falls in love with the beautiful daughter of a missionary and, for her sake, prevents a wholesale massacre of Christians which has been ordered by the Sultan. In the end the girl who goes back to America, promises that she will return to Syria.

All the poetry of the Arab and his steed, all the temperament of the Orient, all the thrills of danger, all the mystery of religious fanaticism can be found in this photodrama. Such desert scenes as these have positively never before been produced. Queen theatre Friday and Saturday.

"TEXAS" WILL STAGE BIG PARADE TODAY

ALBERT T. RICHIE, "GENTLEMAN GORILLA," TO START FROM NEWS OFFICE AT NOON.

WONDERFUL FEATS OF STRENGTH

Several Floats Loaded With Girls to be Hauled by Rope Fastened Around His Neck.

More persons are killed than benefited by ordinary methods of physical culture, in the opinion of Texas. Texas is the "Gentlemanly Gorilla," who is in Waco with his wonderful feat of strength. One of these will be to draw, by means of a rope around his neck, a number of floats filled with people. This exhibition will take place in front of the Morning News office at noon today.

"Texas," whose real name is Albert B. Ritchie, a product of the Lone Star State and former newsboy, is one of the strongest men in the world. He was born in Weatherford, thirty-six years ago.

"The use of weights, dumb bells and other heavy apparatus," says Texas, "usually results in the tearing of tissues, leading to all sorts of diseases, including the weakening of the heart. I have been noted as a 'strong man' for strength for the last twenty-four years, though I am now but 36 years old. I developed early and in all these years I have never used gymnastic apparatus. My system has been simple—nothing but deep breathing through the mouth, and exercising the muscles with natural movements to bring them all into play.

First, I relax the muscles completely, then take a deep breath through the mouth, and by swinging and circling the members working the muscles against one another. The muscles, with this system, develop themselves. Relax, right; relax, right; relax, right—that's the system," Texas remarked, bringing to the surface of his arm, which a moment before had appeared as soft and smooth as a woman's, great seams of muscles that stood out like corrugated iron.

How It Is Done.

"It's this way," said Texas. "Stand straight. Relax. Blow out your breath. Puff like that. Stretch out your arms. Fold your hands. Open your mouth and begin to draw in a long breath. Begin to draw in your hands as though you were pulling a heavy load of trucks. Hug your sides with your elbows. When they're at right angles with your shoulder blades—let go."

"Then?" asked the limp reporter who had been filling Texas' orders. "Then," answered Texas in a suave voice, "then doing that every day for three weeks you'll put on a chest expansion that will make you the surprise of your friends and the envy of your foes."

"Any woman," he continued, "can develop a good figure by simple exercise. And the process would require only a few minutes each morning, followed by a cold sponge bath—not a dip—and a rub. My wife, known to the stages 'Heaven' is an example of the system. She soon will demonstrate the system."

Neck Is Marvelous.

His neck is one of the most marvelous features of the "gentlemanly gorilla." He can stretch it out until it appears more than a foot long—the movements resembling that of a turtle. Relaxed his head sits close to his shoulders and is as thick as the average man's thigh.

Once Sold Papers.

"Texas," Albert B. Ritchie, assumed the sobriquet because he was fortunate enough to be born in the Lone Star State, at Weatherford, Parker county. Early, though, he commenced the nomadic life that has been his since. At the tender age of 5—though there was nothing tender about his muscles even then—he was taken with his family to Chicago, and soon after began to sell papers there.

When he was 11 years of age he was sent to the city of Chicago, where he sold papers. Just six weeks later, he entered San Francisco from the south—with $310 in my pocket, all of which I had made on my way in."

Always endowed with far more than ordinary muscular strength and development, he dreamed one night of Samson and his mighty feats. Came, with waking hours, the desire of emulation. He secured from a blacksmith iron bars from one to one and one-fourth inches in diameter each; he bent them with his teeth, supported four or five men on them across his back and did other stunts of a like nature, all tending to show that here was a youth who should go far in the strong-man game. So thought his sporting backers; they did more than think, showing their faith in the mascot by courtesies. A purse of $150 as him, sending him down to San Jose and advising him to start out for himself. He did, and for twenty-two years has never stopped accumulating in the process as much money as is good for the average man, and much more than the average man gets, anyhow.

Went to College.

By the way, it should be related that "Texas" put in two terms at Stanford university in his California days, where he was more known for his prowess with the bar-bells—without them—and in athletics generally than for that with the book and inkhorn.

"I have proved that I can lift 4,500 pounds with my shoulders without harness," says Texas. "Also I can pull four and a half tons with my neck."

"Texas" will give an exhibition of his strength in front of the Morning News office today. He will pull the "human drey" and riding in an automobile he will pull floats loaded with girls, who are invited to take the ride with "Texas."

"Texas" is here with a company of twenty-five people which will be at the Cozy theatre for three nights and two matinees, commencing today.

ALESSANDRO'S ORCHESTRA TO FURNISH MUSIC—PUBLIC
CORDIALLY INVITED.

George G. Stubblefield Presents Cameron Park Casino-Delicatessen as Pleasure Palace.

Just at the entrance to Cameron park, at the corner of North Fifth and Herring avenue, is an edifice, unique in its lines, that has been attracting much enthusiastic comment from all who have chanced to pass by. It is the "Cameron Park Casino-Delicatessen," was built for George G. Stubblefield of the Grocery So Different, and will be formally opened tonight.

Alessandro's orchestra will play from 8 until 11 o'clock, there will be roof garden dancing, souvenirs will be given away and refreshments served. As Mr. Stubblefield says, "The public is cordially invited. No cards."

The Cameron Park Casino-Delicatessen will cater to parties, picnickers, clubs and social organizations, serving the same either on the roof garden, in the ice cream parlor or in the summer garden on the grounds. In the morning also will be catered to and the beautiful roof garden will be rented at popular prices.

Quality and service will be the first two thoughts. Lloyd B. Gray will be the manager and the business will be conducted in a first-class business manner. A full line of fine groceries and delicatessen products will be carried, along the same line as the "Grocery So Different." Cold soft drinks, ice cream, iced melons, lunches, etc., will be sold at city prices.

The Cameron Park Casino-Delicatessen is truly a new summer idea for Waco—something new, something different," just as Mr. Stubblefield claims. The establishment would do credit to a city many times the size of Waco and is one of the most complete, best arranged and unique of its kind to be found any place in the country.

Chicago Policemen Convicted Conspiracy

Chicago, June 16.—Captain James O'Dea Storen and Detective Sergeant Michael Weisbaum, two of the defendants in the so-called police graft trial, were convicted of conspiracy tonight by a jury in the criminal court. Frederick Roth, former detective sergeant, who was the traveling partner of Weisbaum, was acquitted.

The jury fixed Weisbaum's punishment at three years imprisonment in the penitentiary. Storen was fined $1000.

Attorneys entered motions for new trials. The specific charge against the two men was conspiring to share in the proceeds of operations by a so-called "burglar trust," not only for profit but by return of certain stolen goods to gain credit for police work that would result in promotion.

Trevino Arrives at Monterey.
San Antonio, June 16.—Gen. Benj. Trevino, now residing in San Antonio, today received advice that Gen. Jacinto B. Trevino arrived at Monterey, Cal., with a force of 4000 troops and assuming command of the constitutional forces in the state of Coahuila. The message also stated that General Trevino was preparing an aggressive campaign against the Villistas now in the hands of the Villistas and that Trevino administered a complete defeat to the Villistas at El Estero and that is now ready to push the campaign against the troops under command of Rosal Madero and the battle of Leon was a most sanguinary encounter, says the message. The Villistas suffered losses and the constitutionalists lost several officers, among them being Gen. Ildelfonso Vasquez.

Beans and Corn to Sufferers.
San Antonio, June 16.—Gen. C. A. Devol, acting head of the American Red Cross, returned tonight from Eagle Pass with the information that he finally succeeded in getting two cars of beans and corn across the border for distribution at Monclova and vicinity.

Villa Orders Confiscation.
San Antonio, June 16.—A message from Chihuahua says: "Villa has issued a manifesto or decree ordering confiscation of the properties belonging to those who helped the revolutionaries headed by Orozco, Felix Diaz and Bernardo Reyes, or who openly favored the maintenance of the Huerta government. The decree is dated May 31 and it is announced that the properties will be sold at public auction, and the proceeds distributed partially among the orphans of the revolutionaries and the necessities of the conventional party. The confiscation order includes all the properties, realty and land. All the officials of Huerta's administration, the governors of the states, the federal generals and the dealers in arms and ammunition, which were turned over to the parties who fought against the constitutional cause. Included also in the decree are the editors of the newspaper men who supported Huerta."

Mrs. McElheney Is Composed on Stand

Paola, Kans., June 16.—Mrs. Maude McElheney completed late today nine hours of cross-examination in the trial of Roscoe Hornbaker, during which she recounted in detail the story of the alleged love affair between them. Hornbaker is charged with the murder of Mrs. McElheney's husband, former postmaster at Louisburg, Kans., who was shot more than two years ago.

After her long ordeal Mrs. McElheney, the state's principal witness, apparently was none the less composed than when she took the stand. She was asked repeatedly why she allowed her alleged relations with Hornbaker to continue, declared that her fear of him was the only reason.

During a brief rest period Mrs. McElheney sought to manage her money affairs for her, but that she refused. Several minor witnesses were examined today, one of them, Nathaniel Rice, a farmer, testified that Hornbaker had expressed fear that he would be suspected of the murder of McElheney.

Prof. Zorn Is Bitter Against the U. S.

Amsterdam, June 17, via London, 2:39 a. m.—Prof. Philip Zorn, of the chair of law at Bonn University and who was a member of both The Hague conventions, attacks the administration of President Wilson in an article in the Cologne Gazette, a copy of which has been received here.

"We have a clear conscience as far as international law is concerned," says Prof. Zorn, "but has the Wilson government an equally good conscience? I answer no. The feelings of the German people are bitter against America, not against the American people, whom we consider our good friends, but against the Wilson government, which is neutral only in form."

"Hourly our army, our people and the Kaiser are insulted in the meanest, most lying fashion by the American press. Is that honorable neutrality? The war would have been over except for American supplies. We accuse President Wilson before God and the world of guilt for the continuance of this fearful murder. That is the neutrality and Christianity of President Wilson and his government."

England Will Not Try to Force Making of War Munitions

London, June 17, 2:54 a. m.—The government appears to have abandoned, at least for the present, any idea of resorting to compulsion in the organization of industries for the production of munitions of war.

David Lloyd-George, the minister of munitions, has secured an agreement with the trade union leaders upon a bill which will be introduced in the house of commons next week and passed with all possible speed. This bill will give the government power to prohibit strikes or lockouts prejudicial to the national interest in controlled factories and provide that questions of wages and conditions of employment be settled by a specially appointed tribunal.

The bill contains no provision for compulsion or even compulsory registration by the male population, but will enable the opening of rolls of volunteers who are prepared to work in any factory controlled by the government for a period of six months. In all such controlled establishments, all restrictive practices of the trade unions will be suspended and the profits of the employers limited.

It was announced in parliament yesterday in behalf of the government that it was intended to impose a special tax on war profits, which probably will form a part of the first budget of the new chancellor of the exchequer, Reginald McKenna.

The budget, according to the Times, promises to be the most terrific instrument of taxation in British fiscal history.

Many Inquiries on Checking of Baggage

Washington, June 16.—So many inquiries have reached the interstate commerce commission over the checking of baggage since the Cummins amendment to the interstate commerce act went into effect June 30, that the commission made public several letters written recently dealing with the subject.

Among other things the letter makes clear one declaration of value is sufficient for one person's baggage, no matter how many pieces, and that each passenger is entitled to check without extra charge the maximum free allowance of baggage belonging to himself.

The railroad has the right to charge an additional sum where the true value is declared to be above the ordinary liability accepted by the carriers.

Twice as Much Rain This Month as in April and May, 1914

Washington, June 16.—Twice as much rain has fallen throughout this country thus far in June as fell during the entire months of April and May, the weather bureau announced today. Last April had the lightest rainfall of any April on record in many parts of the country.

No Trickery in the Passage of Gerhard

Washington, June 16.—Secretary Lansing received word late today from sources which he regarded as reliable that the man who sailed for Germany with a safe conduct carrying messages to the foreign office at Berlin from Count Von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, was Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard.

Doubt had been cast on the identity of the German ambassador's envoy by published reports that the safe conduct in Dr. Gerhard's name was in reality obtained for Dr. Alfred Meyer, chief of the supply department of the German army, who was said to have been buying supplies in the United States. Another story was to the effect that Dr. Meyer accompanied Gerhard.

State department officials today express much curiosity over the reports but instituted no formal investigation. From one of the editors of a New York newspaper, an American citizen, came word that he knew both Dr. Meyer and Dr. Gerhard and that he personally saw the latter take the boat for Norway.

While the state department would examine any evidence that might be brought to it, nothing thus far indicates, it was said, officially there is any foundation for a charge of trickery.

Joseph Peterson Acquitted.
Boise, Idaho, June 16.—Joseph H. Peterson, attorney general of Idaho, was acquitted today in the district court of a charge of complicity in embezzlements from the state treasury during the administration of former Treasurer O. V. Allen, now serving a prison term. The evidence disclosed that before he became attorney general he had borrowed on a note from Allen $600, which later was repaid. Meantime Allen had used Peterson's note with other securities to cover his shortage.

Orpheum Theatre to Have Majestic Circuit Attractions

Beginning the second week in August, first-class vaudeville attractions are to be shown at the Orpheum theatre, the name of which will be changed to the Orpheum, according to word received here by E. F. Griswold. Waco and Austin are to be made a split week, four acts and feature moving pictures to be given with a change of program twice a week.

High-class acts from the Majestic circuit are promised, the booking being in conjunction with the Interstate circuit. The acts will come directly to Austin or Waco from the well known Majestic theatre at San Antonio.

It is probable that the work of remodeling the house will begin in the near future. The house will be under new management, and, if the attractions promised are brought, Waco theatregoers will be treated to a much better grade of vaudeville than that to which they have been accustomed.

FIERY RED SKIN ON CHILD'S FACE

Came on Limbs. Pimples Under Skin. Clothing Irritated. Itched and Burned. Restless at Night. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. In a Month Face Normal.

R. F. D. No. 2, Mooreville, N. C.—"My little boy's affection began with fiery red skin on his face. Later it came on his limbs."

There were small pimples under the skin. It was inflamed at times worse than others. His clothing irritated it very much. The breaking out on his face looked very bad; it looked as if it would bleed. It seemed to itch and burn when rubbed. He was restless at night.

"He had the affection for four months or more before I tried Cuticura Soap and Ointment. First I tried a sample of each, and before I had the sample used a marked improvement could be seen. I then bought a cake of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment and in a month his face was normal again without any scars." (Signed) T. S. Deaton, Oct. 1, 1914.

The Coffee Drug

Do you know what it is?

It's caffeine—a poisonous and powerful nerve irritant—about 2 1/2 grains to the cup of coffee.

Listen to what physicians say:

"Coffee and tea are poisonous drugs. The caffeine they contain is of the same nature as uric acid. They impair digestion and produce various disorders of the nerves."

If you haven't suspected coffee as the cause of headaches, biliousness, heart-flutter or sleeplessness, suppose you test the matter by a change to the pure food-drink, INSTANT POSTUM.

There is no caffeine nor any harmful substance in this delicious beverage—just the nourishing elements of wheat, roasted with a bit of wholesome molasses—with a snappy flavour similar to that of mild, high-grade Java.

The sure, easy way out of coffee troubles is to shift to

INSTANT POSTUM

"There's a Reason"

"A large percentage of cases of headache, nervousness, sleeplessness and indigestion can be traced directly to coffee."

GOOD SCHOOLHOUSES MUST BE PROVIDED

CHAIRMAN JOHN STRAUSS OF COUNTY SCHOOL BOARD ISSUES LETTER ON MATTER.

TRANSFERS ALSO DISCUSSED

Inspection Trip Will Be Taken Into Each District Some Time This Summer.

Suitable schoolhouses must be provided in every district in the county this fall, according to the county school board's decision and Prof. John Strauss of Robinson, chairman of the board, has issued the following letter covering the situation as to school houses and also as to transfers:

Waco, Tex., June 15, 1915. At a recent meeting of the county school board various phases of the public school service were discussed. A specially difficult problem, all concede, is the transfer of pupils from schools of lower to schools of higher grades.

Though the state superintendent of education has advised that as a general rule no teacher should be required to teach more than four grades, the county school board on account of insurmountable difficulties permits schools with but one teacher to teach six grades. Pupils of higher grades must be transferred to adjacent schools where the grades required are taught. The law requires that an "equitable" amount of the school fund must be transferred with the pupil.

Now here is where a serious difficulty confronts the board. There is no state ruling regarding the amount that is to be considered equitable for such transfers.

Besides this, there seems to be no law to make it obligatory upon the part of the trustees to whose schools such pupils are transferred, to receive them with the amounts considered equitable by the county board.

And furthermore, so many parents and guardians neglect to ask for transfers at the proper time. Now this is what the school board most urgently requests of all school patrons, that they send their petitions for transfers to the county superintendent, Prof. R. L. Abbott, at an early date, if possible on or before the meeting of the county school board, July 1st, and certainly not later than the first of August. Do this and you will facilitate our difficult task and avoid unnecessary vexation.

Be assured that it is our earnest desire to do all we can to be just to all, and to promote the cause of public instruction. However, we certainly need and kindly ask for your cordial co-operation.

The inadequacy of some of the public school houses in the county, too, was seriously discussed. It is reported that there are school houses in the county, even in McLennan county, that are fifty years behind the times. Hence the board decided to take a trip through the county some time during the summer to look into this matter, and perhaps to take some snap shots for advertising the different communities. If any of the school houses are really as bad as reported, the county superintendent will be advised to decline the approaching of teachers' contracts for such schools.

No mechanic can do good work with dilapidated tools, nor can the best of teachers do efficient work with a wholly inadequate equipment. Trustees, whose duty it is to see that the teachers should be in mind and well ponder that the teacher will impart to the young mind more of himself or herself than the subject matter taught. The teacher's manner, character, views and feelings will become a part of the pupils' character.

Besides this, the daily physical environments will help to build the pupils' character. Cleanliness, neatness, beauty, order and comfort in the school room and the surrounding school grounds all are factors to be well considered, for they become a part of the children's education. Ventilation, light, proper heating, pure drinking water and other sanitary conditions must be carefully provided. Pupils in poor health can not be good students.

Here there is room for much improvement. And there certainly is more important work on earth than the training of the rising generation. Let us then be up and doing.

Chairman McLennan County School Board.

AD MEN TO LEAVE FOR CHICAGO TODAY

ABOUT FIFTEEN WACOANS WILL ATTEND WORLD CONVENTION ON SPECIAL TRAIN.

REGULAR MEETING IS HELD

T. E. Miller of Graham-Jarrell Company Reads Paper on Merchant Who Writes Own Ads.

At least fifteen Wacoans will leave today for Fort Worth, where they will join the Texas delegation to the convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, which will make the long trip to Chicago, the convention city, in a special train. The special will leave Fort Worth at 10:10 tonight, following a banquet given to the Texas delegation by the Fort Worth Ad club and the citizens of Fort Worth.

In the party which will leave Waco this afternoon to join the Texas party to Chicago will be W. V. Crawford, advertising manager of Sanger Bros., president of the Associated Advertising Clubs of Texas; J. J. Hutchinson, president of the Young Men's Business League, who will represent the Times-Herald; J. W. Carlin, advertising manager of the Goldstein-Migel Ad club, who will have charge of the Texas advertising exhibit at the convention; Harry M. Baine, general manager of the Morning News, who will represent the Chamber of Commerce, of which he is president; Dean J. L. Kesler of Baylor university, who will be the Texas representative to occupy the pulpit of one of the Chicago churches on the first day of the convention next Sunday; C. E. Harman of the Texas Publicity Bureau, delegate at large from the Waco Ad club, of which he is president; John Wright, vice president of the Central Texas Exchange National bank, who will represent the Rotary club; Dr. S. C. Gage, W. W. Naman, T. E. Watters, Guy E. McKnight of the McKnight-Sunday company, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Marks, Mrs. A. S. Katz and daughter. Mr. McKnight will also visit several of the eastern cities while away.

On account of the indisposition of Mayor J. W. Higgins, who was designated by the city commission several weeks ago, the city of Waco will not be officially represented at the convention.

Several Invitations.

The special to Chicago will be one of the most luxurious trains that has ever been run out of the southwest, according to officials of the Texas & Pacific, the first route to carry the train, and which furnishes the equipment. The remainder of the trip will be over the Iron Mountain and the Chicago & Alton railroads. A stop of six hours has been provided in the schedule for Hot Springs, and a day and the greater part of the night in St. Louis. The train will reach Chicago at 7:30 Sunday morning.

The following telegram from W. S. Donaldson, president of the Advertising club of St. Louis, and a similar one from Hot Springs Board of Trade were received yesterday by President Crawford:

"St. Louis, Mo., June 16, '15.

"W. V. Crawford,

"President Associated Advertising Clubs of Texas, Waco, Texas.

"Advertising club of St. Louis has arranged for your stopover in St. Louis and hope all of you will spend the day here. Please wire J. W. Booth, chairman entertainment committee, Ad club, Eleventh and Pine, exact time of arrival and number of people in party. W. S. DONALDSON.

"President Ad. Club of St. Louis."

President Crawford also received a telegram with an invitation to the Texas delegation to stop over in Springfield, Ill. It is probable that several stops will be made north of St. Louis, but this will not be decided until the party is aboard the train.

Ad Club Meets.

The regular meeting of the Ad club to have been held tonight was moved to Springfield, Ill. on account of the departure of the Chicago delegates to-day. Aside from the business of the club, the program arranged by the educational committee consisted of a paper by S. E. Thompson on a "Direct Letter Advertising," and one by T. E. Miller, manager of the Graham-

Jarrell company, on "Problems of the Merchant Who Writes His Own Advertising."

The first meeting of the Ad club after the national convention will be held at the Casino roof garden of George G. Stubblerfield at Cameron park. The meeting will take the returned delegates to Chicago. T. H. Jackson, W. T. Robertson, W. P. Killingsworth, D. P. Wallace and Frank Crow were appointed last night by President Harman as a committee to complete arrangements for the meeting. Officers elected several weeks ago will be installed.

Harry M. Baine and John F. Wright were elected alternate delegates to the Chicago convention to take the places of E. C. Blomeyer and A. G. Steele, who are unable to go.

Limitations of the effectiveness of advertising, by letter to articles on advertising, is considerable profit was brought out by Mr. Thompson in his paper. Mr. Miller said in part as follows:

"Why" of Advertising.

"Advertising, to my notion, is largely a form of salesmanship telling the people in their own home through the medium of an advertisement in the newspaper, a circular, or letter, what you or your salespeople would tell them if they were in the store.

"In order to sell merchandise over the counter, a good salesman displays his merchandise to the best advantage and tells the customer of its good points. 'That is the latest style.' 'Excellent fabric.' 'Well made,' etc.—and if a special value, that such is the value, and the reason for the special price, maybe a special purchase under the market—or any one of the many reasons that actually happen in a live business.

"Our line of salesmen not only sells his customer what she asks for, but continues his verbal advertisement by calling to her attention to items in the different sections of the store. He not only increases his sale volume, but advertises the store in a very profitable manner.

"Now when it comes to telling these things to the public in an advertisement, you display your merchandise with a picture if possible; have display head lines and prices in large type, emphasizing the same point you make in your over-the-counter salesmanship; then a short description of the merchandise, the reason for the special price, etc.

"It's a question to my mind whether the professional ad man has any advantage over the man who writes his own ads.

"Selling Experience Needed.

"Many advertising managers have had but little experience in the selling of goods over the counter and if they have it has been in the past. It is hard for them to become as familiar with the merchandise as the man who buys it, marks it up and eventually sells it—who, in fact, is handling it practically every minute of the business day.

"Advertising in the main is merely the putting into form for the newspaper your behind-the-counter selling talk.

"Of course, I realize it has to be dressed up—made attractive by display, etc.—but that will come to you later on, if it does not suggest itself at first.

"In my own case I plan an advertisement, draw a dummy of it, paste my pictures before I write a word—build, as it were. And I did this on my first ad—it came natural to me.

"To this day, I don't know whether this is professional or not. I do know, though, the printers like for you to have a dummy, or map.

"A merchant at the head of a business really has but little time for advertising—has to do it kinder on the run—about the time he gets started and a thought flits through his brain something goes wrong on the floor comes back to his desk and puts the idea he nearly lost on paper, when in pops a nice, pleasant drummer.

Troubles in Writing.

"Now, we all have to be nice to the boys on the road. They have lots of good things for us—but when you are trying to write an ad that will bring you a crowd Monday morning at 8:15 they are an awful bother.

"Then you will have a claim to adjust—get started again, and then several handsome gentlemen will be seen approaching your office—awfully nice looking fellows—men you would like to see come often, socially. They're members of a committee from the Y. M. B. L. or Chamber of Commerce wanting money for some Waco boosting purpose. Well, you shell out to them—use some of your gray matter that should have gone in the ad to talk 'em down on the amount wanted. So it goes on all day and finally you phone your wife you can't go to the Huaco tonight—have that dog-goned ad to finish up. Problems—you bet, lots of 'em.

"But the advertising manager of a large department store has his troubles, too, as no doubt my friend Carlin or Mr. Crawford can tell you.

"For instance, he has his trouble in getting the heads of departments to send their copy in—or some of 'em want the whole ad—and he has to persuade him such is not the case; has difficulty in reading their copy, has to run downstairs—hasn't time to wait for the elevator—to get right on some item. And then he has to please about a dozen people, from the head of the business down to the humblest sales person. We all have our problems.

Tell People Something.

"So my advice to the merchant who does his own advertising is to go at it like he was selling his dry goods, shoes, furniture, groceries, meat, or whatever it might be. He knows more about his line than the average advertising man and can get results if he will take a little pains with it.

"It does not pay to spend money for space and simply say, 'John Jones, dealer in dry goods, groceries, etc.'

"Tell them something—make it interesting—and you can make it interesting. Describe some of the items you have for sale. Create an interest in your wares and a desire to purchase same.

"There are hundreds of things you can tell them about—your pleasant and accommodating salespeople, quick delivery service—satisfaction or money back, etc.

"And then back it all up with the goods, the service, the pleasant atmosphere of your store—you'll get results."
